SONOMA VALLEY GIRL HEROINE OF A ROMANCE.

Miss Nellie Gordenker of Glen Ellen to Become the Bride of the Son of a Millionaire.

The Gordenker family of Glen Ellen, scions of the Russian nobility on the mother's side, is just now attracting attention. Mrs. Olga Gordenker is a leading club woman and writer of Sonoma Valley and her son Deme Gordenker, a graduate of the Sonoma Valley High School and University of California is now winning fame in the Philippines. The family is a prominent one and is highly thought of by Sonoma Valley friends.

With this introductory we publish the following excerpt from the San Francisco Call of a late date: "When Albert Doremus Tietjen of New York, society pet, football star, graduate of New York university, commodore of the Mount Vernon Yacht club and son of a millionaire banker, came to San Francisco less than six months ago, it was with the avowed intention of fitting out an expedition for a journey to the Society Islands in search of pirate gold. Now he is going to marry Miss Nellie Gordenker, daughter of a Glen Ellen family, friends of Jack London and a niece of an admiral in the Russian navy.

The location of the vast wealth was contained in a map left Tietjen by his grandfather, a sea captain.

Young Tietjen was besieged daily at his apartments in the St. Francis by water front men and genuine sea dogs, all bent on the treasure hunt. Tietjen tentatively engaged a half dozen and was looking for a sturdy ship when Papa Tietjen, who had gotten wind of the proposed adventure, tipped it in the bud with a short pointed telegram.

Meanwhile friends had introduced young Tietjen to San Francisco society. He became something of a tango expert and his presence was required at many exclusive little parties. At one of these parties he met Miss Gordenker.

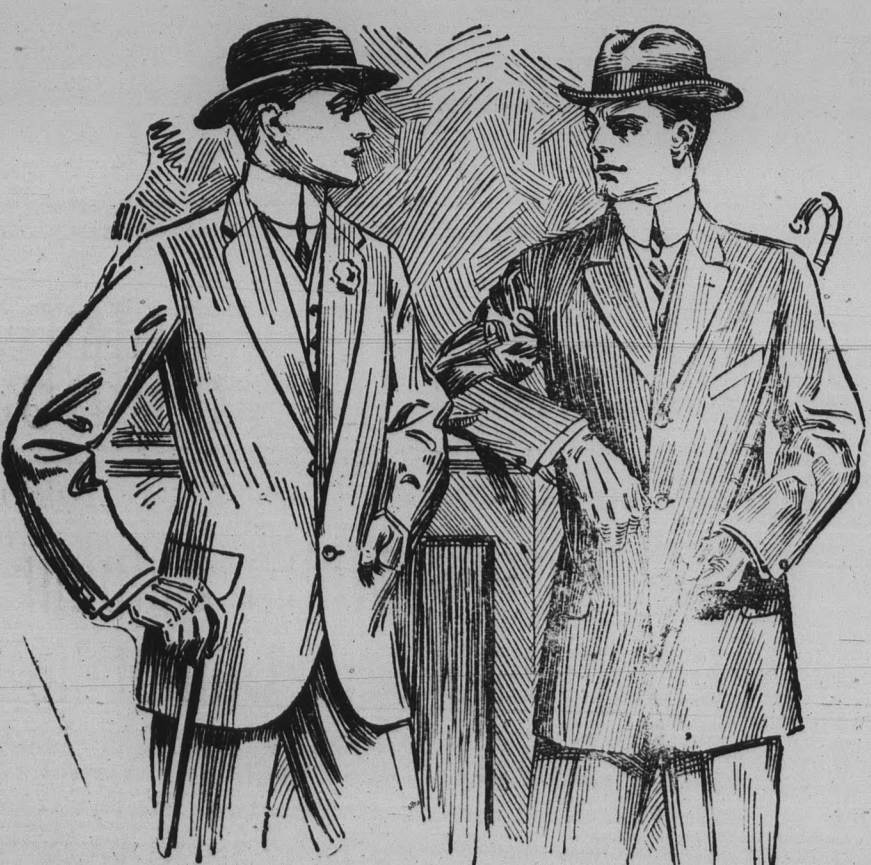

Americanized and independent, Miss Gordenker had entered the California Woman's hospital "for a life of usefulness" as she expressed it and was graduated about the time the New Yorker arrived here. They fell in love. Miss Gordenker promised her hand if he would guarantee her a trip to the treasure island.

"Easiest thing you know," young Tietjen said to his beautiful fiancée. Friends say his parents approved of the engagement, but frowned on the plans for the honeymoon trip. Anyway the wedding bells are due to ring in a few days in Oakland. He is living with friends in Burlingame. Mr. Tietjen Sr. is president of the West Side bank of New York.

HELD TO ANSWER IN SUPERIOR COURT

The Cracksman Captured by Officer Ryan Must Stand Trial So Judge Campbell Decided

Jack Bragg, the cracksman who blew up the safe in the ticket office of the Northwestern Pacific railroad in this city on Friday morning and secured $80 in coin, and was captured by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan after a hot chase, must now stand trial in the Superior Court. At his preliminary examination held before Justice Campbell last Saturday he was held for trial by his honor and is now in the county jail.

District Attorney Clarence F. Lea conducted the preliminary examination and the evidence was taken down by Court Reporter Harry A. Scott. The witnesses examined were Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, Station Agent G. W. Reed of Sonoma and A. Eraldi. Deputy Ryan testified as to the chase after the defendant and his tell-tale footprints in the mud outside the depot and on the railroad track. Station agent Reed testified as to having seen Bragg hanging about the depot building on Thursday afternoon and to have seen him peering through the windows of the building. He also stated that the man's footprints corresponded with those found at the section tool-house which was entered and a number of gum coats and other clothing taken with which to outfit the report of the explosion when the safe door was blown open.

The cracksman is evidently on to his job. No money or other evidence was found upon him when searched except some five or six skeleton keys. The funds secured from the safe were evidently cached while fleeing from the officer. While being interviewed here the morning of the robbery the detectives did not in the least fease him and he passed through the ordeal with a bland and childlike smile which played around the corners of a very firm and determined mouth.

If he is ever convicted it will not be due to his giving himself away by talking too much. His whole demeanor while being sweated at the city jail here proved this.

New Gaiety Theatre of San Francisco Making Notable Record.

The new Gaiety Theatre, San Francisco, recently achieved a notable record in the progress with which that vastly popular enterprise is identified. It sent its initial production, "The Candy Shop" to Los Angeles, where at the Morosco Theatre, now under the control of the Gaiety management, it is repeating the huge success it registered in San Francisco during its two months' run there; and the following night it disclosed to the enthusiastic Gaiety adherents, the mirthful delights and tuneful prodigality of its new and second production, "The Girl at the Gate."

Chief, of course, among the sensational features of this new musical meriment, is the re-appearance before her countless California admirers, of Irene Franklin. She is the bright and rosy-eyed sun around which all the other Gaiety twinklers revolve. There is nobody that approaches Miss Franklin on the American stage to-day for clean, clever, finished comedy characterization, and the enterprise of the new house on O'Farrell street in securing her services for an indefinite period is meeting with its inevitable reward in the shape of a land-office business at the ticket-selling window.

Miss Franklin appears throughout the new show in a variety of stunning costumes and sings a number of her own inimitable songs with that mirth-provoking ease and poise that are peculiarly hers, in all of which entertainment she is admirably supported by her husband, Burton Green.

The show itself is a typical Gaiety musical joyousness. Its scenes are laid in Panama and at the San Francisco Exposition, and the setting, are beautiful and picturesque, the last scene being sensational in its daring effectiveness. It represents the wide sweep of the steps leading to the California Bldg., at the Fair and on these stairs reaching the whole breadth and height of the stage, the Gaiety show girls, than whom there are none comelier perform a succession of effective evolutions that make a perfect picture of stagecraft at its best. There is the usual plethora of comedy and dancing in "The Girl at the Gate," and the music is light and fascinating throughout. In fact, the Gaiety management has left nothing undone to strengthen the reputation this house has undeniably gained of giving the public double their money's worth. "Two dollars' worth for a dollar" remains the policy of the house.

NAVIGABLE RIVERS OF CALIFORNIA.

The Commonwealth Club and Its Internal Waterways Congress to Take up the Matter.

The Commonwealth Club of California has received so many favorable responses to invitations to send delegations to the Internal Waterways Congress, to be held in San Francisco Jan. 15th, 16th and 17th, that it is an assured fact that the Congress will be largely attended. A letter has been addressed to each commercial organization in the State, to each Board of Supervisors and to each municipal government of incorporated cities, representing a population of 3500 or more, asking that the list of delegates selected shall be forwarded as soon as possible. Favorable action has been taken in a large number of cases. California legislators will be present in force and cities and counties will also be largely represented officially.

The Commonwealth Club League makes a statement concerning the recent growth of water traffic in the United States, which is as follows in part:

"In consequence of national legislation there is already apparent the promise and even the certainty of a speedy renaissance of water-transportation elsewhere. Kansas City had faith enough three or four years ago to subscribe one and one quarter millions of dollars for the establishment of a boat line, the business of which is growing by leaps and bounds. St. Louis has organized a company for the same purpose, and Pittsburg and St. Paul are planning to follow her example.

"New life has been given the independent boat lines operating on the Columbia and Snake rivers. Self-propelling steel barges are now operating between the coal fields of Alabama and New Orleans, via the Black Warrior, Tombigbee and Mobile rivers, Mississippi Sound and Lake Borgne canal.

"The new Erie Canal, financed entirely by the State of New York, is approaching completion. Chicago not content with her lakes to gulf waterway project alone, is taking preliminary steps to secure construction of a canal between a point on Lake Michigan, opposite Chicago and Toledo, which will have the effect of extending the Erie Canal to Chicago and at the same time shorten the Water-route distance between Chicago and Toledo by some 856 miles.

"It is not true that California awakens to the desirability and indeed the necessity of providing for herself, through co-operation with the Federal Government, a comprehensive system of navigable waterways."

BLACK POINT CUT OFF AND NAPA COUNTY

There Will Be a Meeting Under The Auspices of the Napa City Chamber of Commerce on January 10th to Consider the Proposition

With appropriations promised of $30,000 from Sonoma and Marin counties for the Black Point Cut-Off, the matter of building this important highway is now engaging the attention of Napa county which is really more vitally interested in the project than either Sonoma or Marin or it ought to be.

At a recent meeting of the Good Roads Convention of Napa County, it was addressed among other speakers by Chas. D. Blaney, President of the State Highway Commission. Among other things Mr. Blaney stated that in his opinion the golden opportunity for Napa County was to build an air-line road to San Francisco, via Black Point and Sausalito. The object of this was to gain connection with an around-the-bay boulevard from San Francisco to San Jose, back to Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Richmond to Vallejo Junction, thence to Napa and from Napa to Sonoma county, and back to San Francisco by way of Sausalito.

This air-line route would enable Napa automobilists to get to San Francisco in about two hours. Another advantage which would accrue to Napa valley would be the fact that farmers here could load their produce onto trucks and get it direct to San Francisco consumers in two hours, thus saving time and freight rates.

In order to do this, the county would have to raise $65,000 for the purpose. The speaker said Sonoma county was willing to contribute $75,000 and Marin county about $40,000. He thought that the population of Napa county would be doubled in about ten years, if this road was built. He also stated that he thought the State Highway Commission would eventually take over the other routes proposed to join the main highway.

Mr. Blaney further showed what the Commission had already been doing in the matter of building roads. Much of the work had been experimental, and of course mistakes had been made, as the sort of work suited to one section would not do in another. Hence there had been much criticism of the Highway Commission's work in the newspapers, which gave the public a wrong impression. In one case particularly, some one had sent a sample of the material used to the papers, and the Commission was condemned for the work done, when the fact of the matter was that the Commission had ordered the stretch of road in question torn up and the work done over again.

There will be a big mass meeting of citizens in Napa on January 10th to discuss President Blaney's plans for the Black Point Cut-Off and to put Napa county in touch with the State Highway via the Black Point Cut-Off. There will be a big representation from the El Verano Development Association and the Chamber of Commerce of Sonoma present at the meeting.

Panama Pacific Exposition Notes.

More than a thousand tons of glass will be used in the construction of the buildings at the Panama Pacific International Exposition, 550 having already been contracted for to be used on eight of the main exhibit palaces. In the Machinery Place alone there are 28,000 panes of glass in the facades now installed and 65,000 square feet of glass in the skylights. When it is considered that 1,000 tons of glass in panes of the average thickness would cover an automobile road, eight feet wide, from San Francisco to Los Angeles, a distance of five hundred miles, and leave quite a bit over, some idea of the immensity of these figures may be gained.

The long arm of the "Aeroscope" at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will swing visitors 268 feet into the air four feet higher than the world famous Ferris Wheel at the Chicago exposition. The arm will pick up the sensation-seeker from the base as a hynotype machine clutches a bar of type slug and twirl him around a giant circle in the air.

One hundred and ninety-one conventions, which will be attended by delegates from all parts of the world, have voted to hold their sessions in San Francisco in 1915. The organizations are varied in character and include civic, religious, social service, educational, fraternal, business, labor, commercial, agricultural, live stock and scores of other interests.

More than 25,000 cubic yards of rich soil was towed from Collinsville, on the Sacramento River, to the site of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco to be used in the tropical garden which will form the setting for the great exhibit palaces. This loam, heaped up, would make a mountain one-half mile high and one hundred feet square at the top and base.

Frederic Thompson, producer of the Toyland Grown Up concession at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, tried scores of engineers of world-wide fame in an effort to find one who would work out a design for a mechanical man, sixty feet high. All failed. Thompson, in a whimsical mood, told his idea to his twelve-year-old office boy and ordered the lad—in jest—to go home and make a working model. The boy, believing Thompson was in earnest, got busy and his model was so successful that the sixty-foot man will be made from the lad's original drawing.

A standard gauge railroad, with all modern appointments, which has been built by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition through its grounds, will provide exhibitors with the quickest and most effective traffic service ever given at an exposition. The cars carry their loads direct to the doors of the various exhibit palaces and in some instances into the buildings. Twelve miles of track is laid, reaching to all quarters of the exposition grounds.

Captain John Hance, known to every visitor to the Grand Canyon of Arizona, will be seated on the rim of the concession of that name at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition every day during 1915. Captain Hance was the first white settler in the region of the canyon and has lived there continuously for thirty years. He has acted as guide to Grand Duke Alexis, Colonel Roosevelt, and scores of celebrities.

By a special system of rotation originated by John McLaren, Superintendent of San Francisco's Parks, every flower of the million plants of the great tropical garden at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be in full bloom during the ten months the exposition will be open to the public. A duplicate of every plant will be kept in the nurseries, green houses and lath-houses and as one in the open ceases to bloom a forced plant will be substituted for it.

The thousands of great trees which are being brought from every country in the world to be transplanted at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition are scientifically treated by experts to prevent their dying. The sideroots are first cut and side boards placed down the cuts. Six months later when the tree has become accustomed to receiving nourishment only from its bottom roots, these are cut and a bottom board attached to the side ones, making a great box. The tree is then hoisted by derrick and shipped by land or sea to San Francisco where it is replanted in special soil brought from the Sacramento river, seventy miles away.

Many of the great paintings of the old masters, which have never before been loaned to any exposition, will be seen in the Palace of Fine Arts at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. These have been secured through the efforts and enthusiasm of John E. D. Trask, Chief of the Department of Fine Arts, who has just returned to the United States after a tour of Europe, where he enlisted the interest of all the art centers in the exposition's plan for a wonderful display of art. In all he secured promises of 350 of the priceless masterpieces.

A reproduction of the Yellowstone National Park will be one of the features of the concessions district at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. A standard gauge railroad will run through the concession, taking visitors seemingly through the entire Park. In the center of the concession reproductions of the geysers and springs which have made the Yellowstone the wonder of the world will be set upon a great revolving table. The cost of the concession is estimated at $550,000 and will be one of the most complete of its kind ever built.

Miss Lottie Tautvetter of Brookside farm on the Hyde tract will spend the holidays with friends in the bay cities.

Walter Bundschu, Henry Haer and M. McNab, all of Rhinefarm, were visitors to the metropolis on New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Townsend, formerly of this place, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Enrico Forni on Christmas day.

Messrs. Louis Rouquie and Louis Kapperich went hunting in the tules Wednesday and if ducks were scarce they found water a plenty.

Henry Pape, the popular mixologist of Pleasant Villa, visited the Exposition City Monday, his place being filled by Henry Forni, who did such a rushing business during Mr. Pape's absence that he had to run an open house.

Mr. and Mrs. John Batto, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Batto and family and Miss Mary Batto were guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Figne in the metropolis on Christmas day. Arthur Batto and family returned home Friday evening and report a splendid time. Mr. John Batto and family remained in the city till after New Year's day.

The Booster's Club of Vineburg held a meeting last Saturday evening. All the members were present and they sure enjoyed a pleasant smoke and a fine lunch. During the meeting the committee on county laws was instructed to draw up a petition and present the same to the Board of Supervisors protesting against the muzzling of our dogs as they are the only protection we have against gophers, pole cats, moles, coons, etc. If they want to muzzle the dogs let them muzzle the varmints also.

I knew a man who had a dog, A dog on tony cuss; To try and muzzle that 'ere dog Would surely raise a fuss, For the man was handy with a gun And the dog was on the bite; To muzzle that 'ere animal Was sure to land a light.

Dollie Dimple.

James Stonier, the well-known and popular superintendent of the Robert Hall famous Sunny Dale orchards, with his family, was the guest of relatives in San Jose on Christmas Day. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stonier are well-known in the Garden City.

STORM PAST WEEK A RECORD-BREAKER

The Precipitation Last Tuesday Flooded Town and Valley and Did Much Damage to the Railroads.

The storm which set in last Monday morning and continued almost without cessation up to the hour of going to press at 3 p. m. Friday has been the fiercest that has visited this section in sixty years.

The downpour on Monday and Tuesday amounted to a veritable deluge and sure old Jupiter Pluvius was the real thing. The precipitation caused all the creeks and small streams in both town and valley to break over their banks, flooding the town and causing some bad wash-outs on both the tracks of the Northwestern Pacific and Southern Pacific railroad systems, delaying traffic Wednesday and tying up the latter railroad for two days.

Sonoma early Tuesday evening was badly inundated on lower Broadway and the westerly limits of the town and the west side of the Plaza was converted into a big lake.

When the storm subsided for a few hours Wednesday morning the flood rapidly subsided and little serious damage has been reported aside from that suffered by the railroads.

The rainstorm was a warm one and of immense value to growing crops and pasturage. The benefit to both farmers and stockmen will far offset any damage done by the storm.

The precipitation for the storm as recorded by Robt. Hall, local signal service observer, is 4.53 inches. For the season 17.00 inches.

Alek Martin, superintendent of the Folger coffee and spice company of San Francisco, was a Xmas visitor to this burg.

Chas. Groskopf, the well known contracting teamster, visited the city last Thursday and reports a fine time.

Fourteen carloads of grain feed and general merchandise were switched on Batto's spur during the month of December.

Arnold Reibli of Pennsgrove spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. Forni at Pleasant Villa and is always a welcome visitor in Vineburg.

The continuous heavy rains the past week has caused all the creeks and ditches to overflow their banks and several culverts and bridges were washed away.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to crack the safe in the office of the N. W. P. station at this place Xmas night. When our genial station agent Grover Rubke looks up that safe it is locked up for keeps, believe me.

Messrs. Lawrence Hunter and Oscar Studley returned from their visit to Los Angeles Monday evening well pleased with the southern city. They say it looked good to them but Sonoma Valley looked better.

Xmas day was all that could be wished for as far as the weather was concerned, that is considering the weather we have had since. A great many visitors took advantage of it and spent the day here with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDevitt and family of Sonoma were guests of honor at an elaborate Xmas dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Batto at their residence. The dining room was tastefully decorated and the table was an epicurean dream. Covers were laid for 18 and the guests were received by Mrs. Batto, assisted by Miss Adele Andrieux. The afternoon and evening was spent in singing and conversation.

BOOSTER MEETING MONDAY, JAN. 5TH.

For the Reorganization of Sonoma's Chamber of Commerce

Everyone admits that the Black Point Cut-off must be built, and built as soon as possible. Everyone also admits that Sonoma Valley must have a fine exhibit at the World's Fair in 1915. There is no division of opinion as to the desirability of these two matters, and therefore we must get together and pull hard and strong. It is suggested that we re-organize the Chamber of Commerce, so that it will become a recognized and effective means for accomplishing these objects, thus aiding and boosting what has been so well started by the El Verano Development Association. Therefore, the undersigned give notice of a meeting to be held in the City Hall at 8 o'clock next Monday. Spirited residents of the Valley are earnestly urged to attend, and set the ball rolling to keep Sonoma Valley in the public eye.

Congregational Church, Jan. 4.

Morning worship at 11 a. m. Man is immortal destined to live while eternal years endure. He may be increased in obedience to God's directions and do deeds and enjoy experiences whose blessedness and greatness he does not now have the power to fully understand. God gives his word and testimony to cover the whole matter. The Christian believes it to the point of acting accordingly. A man is as a seed out of which a great thing is to come. For this reason he must think greater things than the price of pork and the satisfying of the flow of gastric juice. The first black eye given to the race of men was deception and we have seen varying shades of discoloration about everybody's eye. The funny thing is that everyone is satisfied to have Tuberculosis as long as I have it. Come along on Sunday morning and hear more about it.

Y. P. S. C. E. on Sunday at 6:30 p. m. Miss Buchanan is leader. Evening worship at 7:30 p. m.

Was it Diogenes who went about with a lantern looking for a wise man? He would not have picked me out, but all the same we will tell you what the wise men did. We will make the assertion that those who have kept on doing it have cut a good wide swath in the world. The biggest thing a man can do is to make a friend of God. I heard Billy Sunday make a man's meeting very angry because he told them they were not men enough to be Christians. They tore the turf up we can tell you. Men are all right when they are all right and you can't say more than that about anybody. Come and hear about the wise men.

Chas. Lane opened up his new grocery store on the 1st and had his hands full filling orders for the new year. He is also putting in a side line of dry goods.

The big storm did some damage in and around Glen Ellen. The high water in the creek washed away over 150 yards of creek bank on the Dr. Geo. O'Donnell ranch, taking with it two cottages and a number of sheds. The wooden bridge crossing the place has been closed as it is unsafe for traffic.

Masquerade Ball Attracts Many.

Although New Years eve proved a wet and stormy night, many braved the weather and came from all parts of the valley to attend the second annual masquerade ball of the Sonoma Drum Corps.

Union Hall, under the able direction of the talented designer, Paul Robin, was elaborately decorated with manzanita and red berries, intermingled with long streamers of red crepe paper, and never in its history did it present a more beautiful appearance. The stage was a mass of ferns and at one end a duplicate of the old mission San Francisco de Solano had been constructed and was a clever piece of workmanship.

The grand march was held promptly at 10:30 and was followed by a confetti battle, which caused a great deal of merriment. At midnight a delicious turkey supper was given in the dining room and was enjoyed by about seventy-five couples. Prizes were awarded the following: Best dressed lady, Turkish queen, Mrs. A. Adler; best dressed gentlemen, prince, Dr. W. B. Hays; best sustained gentleman character, chinaman, Mrs. Geo. Breitenbach; best sustained lady character, old woman, Miss Adele Livernash. A special prize was awarded Misses Agnes Moss and Martha Landgras.

The music was furnished by the Pauli orchestra of five pieces and dancing continued until five o'clock in the morning.

The members of the Drum Corps are being congratulated on every side for the splendid success of the affair.
